

SCREENFLOW 3

Coming Soon

With Telestream ScreenFlow you can record the contents of your entire monitor while also capturing your video camera, microphone and your computer audio. The easy-to-use editing interface lets you creatively edit your video; add additional images, text, music and transitions for a truly professional-looking video.

The upcoming release of ScreenFlow 3 adds a number of exciting new features that will make video creation even easier!

What's New in ScreenFlow 3.0

Enhanced Timeline Features

Making it even easier to work with tracks and media in the editing interface

- Easy, drag-and-drop tracks to reorder or delete
- Adjust the height of tracks allowing you to see more tracks onscreen
- Easily move media in your timeline with clip grouping/ungrouping, and easy insertion/deletion of gaps in the timeline
- Set exact coordinates for an object, or easily position using cursor keys
- Change the background color for your canvas

Callouts

Easily highlight specific regions by drawing directly onto your canvas

- Use freehand paintbrush tool or highlight rectangular areas
- Blur the screen behind your Callout to hide sensitive data
- Create default Callout styles to speed up your workflow
- Add shadows, change border colors

Video Annotations

Add a layer with circles, squares, lines or arrows over your video content to annotate areas onscreen

- Adjust size, color, position, shadow and thickness of your shapes
- Add video actions and transitions to manage how your shapes appear and move

Audio Enhancements

Use new sophisticated audio tools to filter and adjust your audio directly in ScreenFlow

- Reduce noise using noise reduction filters
- Normalize audio levels

New Export Features

Now it's easier than ever to export your videos with the precise settings you need

- Create and save new export presets
- Customize existing presets
- Export to iPad using the new iPad preset
- See the estimated time remaining in your export
- Publish to Vimeo

And many more features including:

- Open an empty ScreenFlow document without starting a recording
- Full-screen preview mode
- Preview of audio and video in the media bin

Don't worry! If you buy ScreenFlow 2 now, you'll get the upgrade to version 3 for free!
